Far East Vet Takes AFROTC Position

Lieut. Col. Emory A. Cook, veteran of World War II and the Korean War, recently succeeded Col. Richards M. Bristol as commanding officer of the SJS Air Force ROTC unit. Col. Bristol has been assigned to Parks Air Force Base, where he awaits retirement after 27 years of service. This will mark the first experience for Lt. Col. Cook as a commander of a college ROTC unit. Before Feb. 1 he was chief of maintenance at Luke Air Force Base in Phoenix.

He is a native of Chicago, and attended the University of Colorado and Long Beach City College before enrolling at the University of California, where he obtained his B.A. degree in 1954.

Council Asks Pre-Finals 'Dead Week'

An unanimous call for a four-part Dead Week, including a class-free "study day," immediately before finals, was made by the Faculty Council Thursday in a special resolution submitted for further study to the College Life Committee and President John T. Wahlquist.

The resolution, adoption of which is "needed very badly," in the opinion of Council Chairman Dr. Bert N. Morris, lists the following four points:

1) That instructors should in the week before exams "avoid insofar as possible any examinations, deadlines for term papers and projects, or other work which would call for more than the normal, day-to-day amount of preparation on the part of the student."

2) That "extra-curricular activities (whether credit is earned by them or not) . . . should not be scheduled during the examination period or during the five days preceding."

3) That, as far as student social events during Dead Week are concerned, "they are primarily the problem of the students themselves and that the Student Government should therefore handle them as it sees fit."

4) That "to keep one day preceding the examination period completely free from classes would benefit both faculty and students, some of whom now have evening classes scheduled immediately before early morning examinations and all of whom could profit by such a study period."

The Faculty Council is composed of 18 members elected near the end of the spring semester by the faculty to serve as an advisory board to the President and to operate as a means of communication between the faculty and the President.

Sororities Begin Spring Rushing With Open Houses

The 12 sororities on the San Jose campus held their semi-annual open houses yesterday, starting off the spring rushing season.

More than 200 rushers attended the first event in the two-and-one-half-week season which will be climaxed on Saturday, March 2, with the presentation of the new sorority pledges to the SJS campus.

First parties will be held today and tomorrow with second parties taking place Wednesday and Thursday. Third parties are planned for Saturday and Sunday with all the houses holding fourth and final parties on Monday, Feb. 25. Preference Day is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 26.

Until Preference Day rushers may pick up their bids at the Catholic Women's Center between 8 a.m. and 12 noon. Girls who have classes scheduled at these times should make arrangements at the Panhellenic booth in the CWC to pick up bids at their earliest convenience.

Alpha Phi Omega Plans Rush Buffet

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, will have a rushing function buffet dinner this evening at 6 o'clock. The dinner will be held at 510 N. 2nd St., according to Herb Effron, rush chairman. Entertainment also will be provided.

Frat Rushing To Begin; Sign-ups Close At Noon

More than 200 students had signed up for fraternity rushing by 3 p.m. Friday and at least 100 more are expected to sign before the deadline at noon today.

Formal rushing begins tonight from 7 to 11 p.m. Sigma Pi, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Tau, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu and Theta Xi will hold open houses.

For the first time rushers will be required to attend open house at every fraternity in compliance with the rushing rule passed by the Inter Fraternity Council last term.

Five fraternities will hold open house tomorrow from 7 to 11 p.m. They are: Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi and Theta Chi.

Sign-ups for rushing will continue today until noon. A sign-up booth has been set up in the outer quad and rushers can obtain schedule cards in the office of the Associate Dean of Students. The cards must be turned in to the office by Wednesday and by Thursday a rusher must turn in to the office a list of the three fraternities which he prefers. Bids can be picked up on March 1 between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. at the Student Union.

Because of the ruling that rushers must attend every house all cards must be stamped by the houses before being turned in Wednesday. A rushing fee of $1 will be collected at Room 116.

Registration Total Climbs to 10,293

Registration late last week reached a total of 10,293 regular and limited students registering for the spring semester, according to Mrs. Barbara Wilcox of the Registrar's office.

According to Mrs. Wilcox, there were 5006 men students and 3393 women registered as regular students as of 9 p.m. Thursday.

A total of 1894 limited students comprise the balance of the total number of registrants.

Registration for the second semester will continue through Wednesday, Feb. 20.

Ten Finalists Elected In Soph Doll Contest

Four To Help In Celebration, Plan Events

Four student members of the Centennial Student Affairs and Participation Subcommittee have been selected to correlate student activities during the May 2-11 festivities. They are Joan Ereno, centennial ball; Don Ryan, student council liaison; Kay Collins, living group open houses; and Bob Johnson, barbecue.

Joan will work with Bill Squires, chairman of the Social Affairs Committee, and Jo Widener to plan a centennial dance, probably to be held in the Civic Auditorium. Ryan will be in charge of reporting student progress on Centennial plans to the Student Council.

Kay heads a committee which will develop and coordinate open houses during the celebration, and Johnson has complete charge of the barbecue, which will be held in the Exposition Hall at the Santa Clara County Fair Grounds.

Working with Johnson are Chuck Miller and Mitchell Winkler. Physical arrangements for the barbecue are being handled by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity, with Grant Salzman of Aphio in charge.

Entertainment for the event will be organized by the Revelries Board, with Theodore J. Balgoyen, assistant professor of speech, as faculty adviser.

Food preparation and service is under the direction of Mitchell Winkler with Harry Weinroth, faculty adviser.

Students planning Centennial events will meet tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in Room 104 to continue discussions on the various activities, according to Ed Adams, publicity and ticket sales chairman.

Dean Stanley C. Benz is chairman of the subcommittee, which is directing the student-planned activities. Other members of his committee are Kay Von Tillow, AWS president; Robert I. Guy, assistant professor of drama and Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, professor of speech.

Other Centennial activities in which students will participate include a spring Alumni Day on May 11, which will bring the 10 days of festivities to a close. It will be an all-day meeting dedicated to the "Golden Grads," people who were graduated from SJS 50 or more years ago.

A special highlight of the celebration will be the Art Exhibit to be on display in the study room of the Library. The exhibit will open May 1 and will feature the works of modern California artists.

Spring Semester Activities Planned By Four Classes

All but the junior class will hold regular class meetings this afternoon. Current class projects will be further developed by the senior, sophomore and freshman classes.

Plans for the Fresh-Soph Mixer will be underway this afternoon when the freshman class meets in Room 55 at 3:30 p.m. Themes for the mixer will be discussed and Al Patterson, freshman social affairs committee chairman, will appoint committee chairmen for the event. This semester the Freshman class is organizing the event to be held in the women's gym.

All freshmen who are interested in performing at the mixer are urged to contact Paul Johnson. The tryouts are slated for 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 19 and 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 20 in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

SR. ACTIVITIES REPORTED
Reports on graduation activities both for the February and June graduates will be presented to members of the Senior Class today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 39, according to Dr. Rocco Pisano, class adviser.

Plans for the Senior class sponsorship of an after-game dance for Friday will be under discussion also.

CONTEST, SALES PLANNED
Sophomore Class Council will meet at 3:30 p.m. today in Room 55.

JR. FROM DISCUSSED
The next regular meeting of the junior class will be held Monday, Feb. 25 in Rm. 24, according to Alicia Cordona, publicity chairman.

During the meeting, final plans will be discussed for the Junior Prom, which will be held March 29.

The selection of the band and place for the prom will be on the agenda at the executive board meeting Wednesday.

'Laburnum Grove' Opens Run Friday
"Laburnum Grove," an "Immoral Comedy" by J. B. Priestly opens Friday night, Feb. 22 and will play Feb. 23 and 28 and March 1 and 2.

The author calls it an "Immoral Comedy" because of the moral compromises with honesty on the part of the principal characters.

Davey Schmitt and Sylvia Cirone play Mr. and Mrs. Baxley who have become "permanent" guests in the Radfern home and are only interested in borrowing money from George Radfern, played by Ivan Paulsen.

Richard Thomas plays Harold Russ and is interested in marrying the Radfern's only daughter, Elsie, portrayed by Elio Galera. Russ is also interested in the Radfern money.

The other characters are: Mrs. Radfern, Leslie Robinson; Joe Fletten, Kenneth Savickas; Inspector Stack, Edmund Holmes; and Sergeant Morris, John Rudd.

From these ten finalists a winner will be chosen by a four-member judging board on Feb. 20 at 4 p.m. in Room 55. The winner will represent San Jose State in the Intercollegiate Soph Doll contest to be held March 1 at the Bermuda Palms Hotel, north of San Francisco on Highway 101.

ASB President Ray Freeman will be master of ceremonies at the event, and will introduce the intercollegiate winner. Chairman of the contest is sophomore Alice Kuntz.

Discrimination Bows to Brotherhood

Recent racial tension and issues over segregation and desegregation emphasize man's need for brotherhood. This week, Feb. 17-24, has been designated Brotherhood Week — a week devoted to the principle "that people shall live as one family of man."

Every year since 1940 the National Conference of Christians and Jews has sponsored Brotherhood Week. Unfortunately, we often fail to carry out the conference's desire that we make brotherhood a 52-week-a-year activity.

Everywhere we see the age-old problems of bigotry and prejudice creeping into the American way of life. It is too bad that the human eye was created with such accurate powers as to distinguish color and dark and light. Too often we are misled to class individuals by their skin color.

Communist propaganda constantly emphasizes our internal bickerings over issues of segregation and hate and ill feelings between so-called minority groups. Red reports claim that through discrimination we create class lines and that this eventually will cause the downfall of our democratic system. We know better but we must admit that often we forget the ideals that give our democracy its sound foundation.

Bernard M. Baruch, distinguished American statesman, says that "to discriminate against a man because of race, color, creed or national origin is antithetical to democracy and dangerous to America."

Men who comment that they cannot live on the same level with others probably find difficulty living with themselves.

LITERATURE CAN BE SCREAMS!

To save you tiresome days of reading, days that can be more happily devoted to healthful winter activities like skiing, tobogganing, and three card monte, this column today presents digests of some classic novels that are sure to come up in your lit courses.

The Scarlet Letter

This is a heart rending story of a humble Boston lass named Hester Prynne who is so poor that she does not have enough to eat, nor a roof to cover her head. But she is a brave, brawny lass and she never complains and by and by her patience is rewarded: in the summer of 1859 she wins a football scholarship to Alabama.

Hester works hard and makes the varsity and wins her letter. Everybody says she is a shoo-in for All-Conference honors, but along comes the War Between the States, and football, alas, is dropped for the duration.

She was a Shoo-in for All-Conference Honors.

Poor Hester goes back to Boston. It is a bitter cold winter, and poor Hester, alas, does not have a roof over her head, and the only warm clothing she owns is the football sweater from Alabama, but that, alas, has a big scarlet "A" on the front of it, and she can hardly wear such a thing in Boston where Union sentiment runs so high.

Poor Hester, alas, freezes to death.

Little Women

The Marches are a very happy family — and for no reason whatsoever. They are poor as snakes; they work from cockcrow to evensong; their dear old father Philip is away with the Union armies; and their mattresses are lumpy.

Still, nothing can dampen the spirits of madcap Meg, jocular Jo, buoyant Beth, animated Amy, and crazy old Marmee, as the merry March girls lovingly call their lovable mother.

Well sir, one Christmas the March girls get an invitation to a ball. But Beth reminds the sisters that they can hardly go traipsing off and leave poor Marmee alone at Christmas time. The sisters swear a lot, but they finally agree with Beth.

Marmee, however, will not hear of it. "Land's sake, little women!" she cries. "You must go to the ball and have some fun. There will be punch and ginger snaps and confetti. Best of all, there will be morris dancing. Oh, how your father and I used to love that!"

"I never knew father could dance," cries Meg.

"Oh, yeah?" cries Marmee. "You should have seen Philip morris!"

"Was Philip a good morriser?" cries Jo.

"The best," cries Marmee. "Philip could morris in long size and regular and was full of natural goodness and fresh and firm and unfiltered too."

The girls are cheered to hear this and go to the ball. Marmee stays home all alone, but soon gets a wonderful surprise: Philip comes back from the war!

When the girls return from the ball, they find Marmee and Philip morrissing, and they cry "Huzzah!" and throw their bonnets in the air, where they are to this day.

'Elves' Highlight Nutrition Display

By JERRY ROTH

"Food elves" that show the thankfulness of people for food in the sparsely productive Scandinavian countries are part of the colorful and artistic display in the downstairs hall of the Home Economics Building.

Miss Martha Thomas, Miss Maude Ashe and Miss Katherine Young, home economics faculty members, worked together to accumulate and arrange the entertaining and attractive case.

Miss Thomas explained that they were "publicizing the value of the basic seven foods" as it is recognized in all countries.

New materials will be placed in the case as they arrive.

Polish prints from Warsaw illustrate animals as food sources.

Part of the display is devoted to Middle Europe and shows an Austrian food chart produced by a group equivalent to our Junior Red Cross. The countries of South and Central America are also represented.

Also in the display is a food chart from the Philippines which is written in Tagalog, the native language. An Irish chart printed in Gaelic has yet to be translated.

Let's Face It

By MARILYN PETERS

The parking problem at this institution of higher learning truthfully can't be classified "secret" although most people, especially me, think it appropriate to label it either "impossible" or "security risk."

Not that I mind beating the sun to school in order to get a parking space on 13th street; it's trying to drive home in the evening with a collapsed radiator and tire a-la-fender that tends to upset my usually serene personality.

No one seems to have a ready solution handy. Roller skating takes talent and the construction crews are too busy building buildings to erect bicycle racks.

'Guess there's only one thing to do. Let's face it!

BOGUS PARKING

Students the world over will do some drastic things to get out of taking exams. In Provo, Utah, prisoners at the Utah State Prison rioted and captured their teachers supplied to the prison by the University, and used them for hostages.

The Daily Universe, a publication of the Brigham Young University Community, printed an interview with one of the teachers at the time of the riot.

The teacher, James Ditty, a Brigham Young student instructor, was quoted as saying, "I was planning to give a test Friday."

We're not saying that this was the reason for the riot but who knows?

OHIO BLUE KEY

Students at Kent State University, as reported by the Daily Kent Stater, also publish their student-faculty directory under the title Blue Key, as San Jose State did prior to 1955.

But instead of selling the Key at booths, members of the Blue Key service fraternity carry canvas bags on their shoulders.

This plan of operation could produce havoc at SJS, where the purses the gals carry in the spring do not look much different from those the Kent students use to carry directories.

The KaLeoO Hawaii of the University of Hawaii reports the incident which we believe deserves our award for Lemon of the Week. (The Lemon of the Week award is given to college students who have done the most to produce sour news.)

Eleven University of Hawaii students were issued official reprimands for possession of "bogus" parking tickets, made by a former student.

According to the KaLeoO Hawaii, "These bogus stickers permitted owners to park their cars in areas not normally designated for students."

SHE GOT STUCK

In the advice column of the Oregon Daily Emerald, a college coed presented this problem:

"I am pinned to a boy who is a member of a fraternity that has only three members that are pinned, but there are seven girls in my sorority who have pins from the same house. None of these girls ever have a date on Tuesday nights, the only night my boyfriend says he can take me out. Do you think anything is wrong?"

The columnist answered her question, "Probably." We think the answer might well be "Certainly."

His child — like yours — came into the world owing $1,625

"You know how you always want your children to have it a little better than you did? It's a normal and natural desire.

"Yet I wonder, sometimes, if we aren't short-changing the generations coming up when I see how we're running the national 'store.'

"Back in 1915 our national debt amounted to $11.84 per person. Today your child comes into the world owing $1,625.

"Private debt is ballooning too—from 154 to nearly 450 billions since 1945.

"Inflation? Measured by what it bought in 1945, a 1956 dollar was worth only 67 cents.

"Our annual tax bill is something, too. One out of every four days you work goes for taxes.

"Sure we have to pay for the wars we've fought. And America's responsibilities as a world citizen are extremely expensive.

"And in spite of all I've said, we're all living better than ever.

"But part of this increased standard of living is being bought on the installment plan. The average American family today owes 13.6% of its annual income for things it has bought on credit—compared to 6.8% in 1948.

"So it seems to me that all of us might be doing those future generations a service by taking a careful look down the road we're traveling."

Spartans Win; Lick L.A. Lions

By RANDIE E. POE

The handwriting is on the ball. San Jose State's cagers inscribed it there Friday night in galloping past Loyola of Los Angeles, 79-64, in Spartan Gym. The handwriting indicates the Spartans can go with any CBA team when they decide to play basketball.

Tomorrow, the McPhersons haul their machinery to San Francisco State to duel the Gators. Tip-off time is 8 o'clock.

Loyola jumped into a 8-2 lead against SJS but it lasted as long as a bag of gum drops at the day nursery.

Don't let the score deceive you. After ten minutes, the Lions were never in contention.

Jack Rowley, who gets hotter than Wyatt Earp's pistol, hit a jump shot, then a hook, then another hook, and another twisting jumper, and zoom... the Spartans grabbed a 12-10 lead they never relinquished.

Marv Branstrom played an outstanding floor game, pulling down 20 rebounds and bucketing 12 points. He held dandy Garnette Brown to three first-half points. Brown almost had to eat the first four field goals he attempted.

The Spartans went basket berserk in the second half, rolling up 45 points after holding a 34-25 halftime margin.

When Eddie Diaz socked home two free tosses with 5:15 to play, the Spartans enjoyed their hottest lead, 67-47.

Gil Egeland, whose biggest sin is carelessly throwing away the ball, punched in three fielders in the three minutes preceding the intermission, sending the Spartans a winging.

Egeland and Rowley drilled 16 points apiece to pace SJS.

Skipper Walt McPherson flooded the floor with reserves in the late going and even the subs hit the hoop. Arnie Lundquist, a lumbering giant (6'7"), looked especially good and rebounded aggressively.

Loyola's Brown rebelled in the second half and notched 15 points overall. Lefty Bill McMahon, hitting early with a soft-touch jumper, posted 12 tallies for the Lions.

In the preliminary, Sam's Auto whipped the Spartan J.V. team, 72-60. Dennis Rano and Denny Harris netted 14 each for the J.V.'s.

Cottontop Don Rye, who hits constantly in practice, still seems to have difficulty maneuvering for shots. He's fired almost 100 times less than the lowest Spartan starter... Diaz has been colder than a box lunch in the last two games, particularly from the field. He was 3-for-11 vs. Loyola. Still, he managed 13 points and continues to head all Spartan scorers.

SPORTS LINE

By DON BECKER

The problems confronting grid coach Bob Titchenal as he tries to mold a respectable football team here at San Jose State are many and varied. Chief of these problems is the local recognition of both the Pacific Coast Conference and the State College President's Council's athletic codes. In cases where the two codes disagree, where one is more lenient in the various areas of athletic aid, San Jose dutifully follows the stricter of the two codes.

At the state colleges, for example, a junior college transfer is eligible for three years of varsity competition, even though he has completed two years of junior college. The PCC code allows J.C. transfers only two years of eligibility. In this typical situation, San Jose follows the PCC code.

At present, San Jose cannot continue to follow both codes and field any kind of winning football team. Evidence of this fact is seen by the slim crop of J.C. transfers who enrolled this semester at SJS. From the scores of junior colleges in California, all of whom field football teams, only five J.C. players found their way to the local campus.

This was not due to a failure of San Jose coaches to contact players they were interested in, but rather due to the fact that the J.C. gridders found a better deal elsewhere.

Bob Titchenal voiced his disappointment recently over the fact that many players he had tried to interest in coming to SJS had gone elsewhere. He named Cal Poly and Fresno State as two schools who were chosen over San Jose State by some of the prospects he had contacted.

When Coach Titchenal talks to a prospective griddier, about all he has to offer is a $100-a-month work-aid job. Many football players have no other source of income and would not be in college were it not for football. The $100-a-month does not go far and one can't blame the gridders for looking toward the future and taking the best deal they can get. San Jose, right now, does not offer much of a deal.

The football situation here is at a critical point. San Jose must decide whether it wants to try to continue to play its present semi-big-time schedule, including a few PCC foes; go bigtime all the way, scheduling the strongest teams possible, or else go low pressure, stop playing PCC teams, and play only on the state college level.

Whatever local officials decide to do, they must shed the policy of trying to follow two athletic codes. That amounts to little more than athletic suicide. The easiest way out of this problem would be to just play on the state college level, following only the State College President's Council code. But that is not what President Wahlquist, the P.E. department, or the students seem to want.

Dr. Wahlquist, out of town and unavailable for comment, has previously said he would like to see SJS in the PCC. That also would eliminate present problems, but this eventually is unlikely in the near future. The time is now for the P.E. Dept. and Dr. Wahlquist to get together and map out a positive policy for San Jose State football. "Middle of the roadism," vacillation, and hesitation are out of place. With an enlarging enrollment of more than 10,000, San Jose, on its present course, will soon be the biggest small-time college in the country. The solution to local problems will be difficult, but a better arrangement than exists at present can certainly be found.

Spagnola Sparks Spartan Matmen

Ken Spagnola and Russ Camilleri, wrestling's "fearsome two-some" at San Jose State, saved face for the Spartans in weekend mat activity in Spartan Gym.

Spagnola was the only victorious Spartan against powerful Oregon State Friday. He decisioned Bud Glenger in the 167-pound division but the Beavers rolled to a 24-10 triumph.

The Beavers won the team title in the Pacific Assn. Senior AAU meet Saturday, stowing away 25 points. San Jose State tied with the Oakland YMCA for third, with a 8 points each, while San Francisco's Olympic Club nailed down second, scoring 17 points.

The muscular Spagnola also shined in the PAAU fest. He finished second, notching three points for SJS, and outranked U.S. Olympic ace, Jay Holt.

M. A. (Doc) Northrup, Olympic Club oldster who gets better with age, won the 167-pound title. Camilleri plowed through the entire 191-pound field and was San Jose State's only title winner in Saturday's tourney.

Jim Healy, Olympic Club, and Ken Noteboom, Oregon State, were both outstripped by Camilleri.

The defeat by SJS Friday was the locals' first setback after seven straight wins.

Here's the way Oregon State

topped the Spartans:

Clyde Zumwalt pinned Joe Isasi (123 pounds).

Ed Neuschwander pinned Marvin Rodriguez (130).

John Owings pinned George Sanders (137).

Larry Wright decisioned Lynn Brooks (147).

Lou Taucher decisioned Myron Nevaumont (157).

Spagnola decisioned Bud Glenger (167), giving the Spartans their only win.

Bob Hicks decisioned Bob Stranglo (177).

John Dustin decisioned Camilleri (191).

Sanger and Noteboom wrestled to a draw (Heavyweight).

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Ken Boekeloo (center foreground) at the scene of a cable installation project in Detroit.

Ten years along in his telephone career

After graduation in 1947 from Kalamazoo College with a B.A. in Physics and Mathematics, Ken Boekeloo joined Michigan Bell Telephone Company as a trainee.

Today, ten years later, Ken is a Division Plant Superintendent in Detroit. Eight district supervisors report to him, and they supervise some 1700 people. Ken is responsible for the installation and maintenance of plant facilities valued at $135,000,000 including more than 500,000 telephones.

A big jump in ten years? Here's what Ken Boekeloo says about it:

"The way the telephone business is growing, you can advance just as fast, and just as far, as you're able. ... And all along the way, from the student period through each assignment, the training and experience you get really prepare you for advancement."

"If you like to make contributions and take responsibility, and if you value the opportunities a growing business can offer, then the telephone company's the place to look for a career."

Ken Boekeloo is one of many young men who are finding rewarding careers in Bell Telephone Companies, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer can give you more information about all Bell System Companies.

FREE! INVISIBLE SHIRTS!

It is a little known fact that Van Heusen, in addition to its regular merchandise, also makes a grand line of invisible shirts. Alas, they have never proved very popular. People lose them easily. Laundries are confused by them. And people wearing these invisible shirts are not just walked over, they're sometimes walked through.

So, we're stuck with thousands of them, and we've just decided to give them away. To you! Just write Van Heusen. We will send you free a complete wardrobe of invisible shirts. Not just one or two! Not us. We'll send you hundreds of them. In every style! Every size! Every collar fashion! All handsome. All invisible. Probably the finest you've never seen.

As for visible shirts — and shorts, sport shirts, sweaters, pajamas, handkerchiefs and ties — well, you know Van Heusen. We have most of the new styles before anybody else. And we handle traditional favorites in a way that explains why certain styles last a long, long time. Your local haberdasher carries a large Van Heusen selection. See him soon.

March 5 Named Registration Day For Easter Death Valley Excursion

Dr. Gertrude Cavins, head of the West Coast Nature School, said today that Tuesday, March 5, has been set as registration day for students intending to go on the Easter Week excursion to Death Valley.

Dr. Cavins said that there will only be the one day in which to register. Students will be accepted on a "first come, first served" basis, she said.

Tuition fee is $15, and must be paid at the time of registration. No exceptions will be permitted. A food cost of $16 is payable at a later date.

This year's trip to Death Valley will take place on April 14-20, while school will be closed for the Easter holidays.

Dr. Cavins announced that this year's teaching staff will be an entirely new one, and that they will offer new "aspects" to the subjects covered.

"The staff will cover all important phases of Death Valley in

Students To Take Personnel Tests

Personnel tests will be given Feb. 23 at 8 a.m. for those students who have not yet taken them. Graduate students will meet in Room 5 of the administration building and will finish about noon. Undergraduate tests will be given in Room 17 of the main building and will require most of the day for completion. All students should come equipped with fountain pens and IBM pencils.

In preparation for this semester, the Testing Office has already tested 405 transfer students, 160 new freshmen and 130 graduate students. All undergraduates take the same test except that freshmen must write the English A essay. Graduates take a different battery which contains fewer tests.

To this day there are countless bridge lovers haunted by a vision of two drunken oboe players wandering to the middle of a trestle and, by blowing the proper pitch, shaking the span to a tangled mass of cable, concrete and girders... or soldiers breaking step when marching across a bridge.
